If it is a co-production, it must be the first documentary film of each of the 2 directors.

2 – News films, commercials, advertisements, reports, tourist or business films and clips won't be regarded as 'arthouse films'.

School films are not eligible.

3 – Any film sent to be selected to Premier Doc competition cannot be submitted to any other part of the Festival the same year.

4 – Non French films must be subtitled.

5 – A ChrOma committee will make a selection amongst the submitted films.

A Paramount Jury composed of professionals will attend the Festival and decide of the prize-list.

A high school jury will also award a prize to the film of their choice and the spectators will vote to award the public prize.

The awards will go to the filmmaker(s).

6 – The recipients of the festival's prize are entitled to use their award to promote their film.

7 – Screening material : preferably DCP (in priority) or Blu-ray.

8 – ChrOma cannot assume liability for any delay or loss in postal services or mail deliveries.

9 – Short extracts or stills from the selected films may be broadcast in the media either on local, regional or national TV channels to promote the festival.

10 – The presence of the director or a representative of the film is strongly encouraged during the competition.

The director's stay will be taken care of:

- accommodation and meals (except Sunday lunchtime) ;
- reimbursement of travel expenses (up to €80 per person, 2 maximum in the case of co-direction) upon presentation of proof of return travel.

Candidates present agree to honor all appointments scheduled as part of the Premier Doc Competition.

11 – By entering a film and sending it to the Festival, directors, producers or their representatives and distributors agree to abide by these rules.

12 – Once a film has been submitted and selected it cannot be withdrawn from the festival by either the film-maker or his(her) representative.

13 – ChrOma is entitled to alter the above regulations or to cancel the competition if required by circumstances.
